

I writing regarding the impact this new ruling could have on the radio station I enjoy listening to. K-Love provides family broadcasting and fills the need to have more wholesome music available. This ruling would take away this important piece of society.

To allow this ruling to be implemented would be a travesty. As a society, we need music that is uplifting not music that promotes violence or is sexually explicit and promotes violence against women. Because of the accessibility to obtain a license for LPFM, one would just have to wonder how much more of that type of music would be saturating the airwaves. To force any segment of society to listen to music contrary to their choice is reprehensible.

K-Love, which is an FM station, provides the public with an alternative to that type of music. Without the service provided by K Love, or stations of the same type, I believe that the overall community of "society" would lose an important voice. Please do not make the mistake of running roughshod over stations that provide a large segment of the population with their form of music. Do not impose the will of a few on the rest of society.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Kim Higgs